The New World Order. Alejandro Roque Glez

The New World Order is nothing new and we see it exemplified at its peak as early as in the days of Babel, when the elite of that time led to believe all that united around a man—Nimrod type—they could reach their glorious dream while giving their backs to the Creator, whom, like now, they no longer believed; and hence the saying: "...let us build us a city and a tower, whose top may reach to heaven; and let us make us a name..." (Genesis 11:4).

That sharp instrument which snatches power with diabolical miry, devours grass and human flesh when deemed necessary. Grass we are while we can be convinced with ideological discourses, and in the flesh we become when it is not enough and they need to instill terror, bloody persecutions, abuses under plain daylight; and injustices that are accompanied by unspeakable sufferings and tears.

When the citizen—and society—rescind their rights to authentic freedom being put under the ideological paradigms of each political current, then it is logical to expect degenerative states of depression: reaching the individual and political-economic system.

Our hope must not be rooted in those sandy piles which the wind disperses periodically.
