Text, Speech and Dialogue: 6th International Conference, TSD 2003, České Budejovice, Czech Republic, September 8-12, 2003, Proceedings (Lecture Notes in Computer Science)

The International Conference TSD 2003, the sixth event in the series on Text, Speech, and Dialogue, which originated in 1998, presents state-of-the-art technology and recent achievements in the field of natural language processing. This year's conference includes invited talks given by top-class researchers (Frederick Jelinek from Johns Hopkins University of Baltimore, Sadaoki Furui from the University of Technology in Tokyo, President of ISCA, and Steven Krauwer from the Institute of Linguistics of Utrecht University), plenary and problem-oriented sessions, as well as poster sessions and demonstrations involving 28 functional applications. The conference declares its intent to be an interdisciplinary forum, which intertwines research in speech and language processing as well as research in the Eastern and Western hemispheres. We feel that the mixture of different approaches and applications gives a great opportunity to get acquainted with the current activities in all aspects of language communication and to witness the amazing vitality of research from the former East Block countries. The financial support of ISCA (International Speech Communication Association) enables the wide attendance of researchers from all active regions of the world. This volume contains a collection of all the papers presented at the international conference organized by the Faculty of Applied Sciences of the University of West Bohemia in Pilsen in collaboration with the Faculty of Informatics, Masaryk University in Brno, and held in the beautiful city of České Budejovice (South Bohemia, Czech Republic), September 8-12, 2003. Each of the submitted papers was thoroughly reviewed by three members of the conference reviewing team consisting of more than 40 world-famous specialists in the conference topic areas.
